21ST YEAR--No. 6,434.

WASHINGTON, WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 20, 1889.

PRICE TWO CENTS

EXTRA

A SENSATION

Created by the Story of an Elopement.

MARRIAGE IN MILWAUKEE OF A DAUGHTER OF CHIEF JUS-TICE FULLER.

HOW IT ALL OCCURRED!

A Young Chicago Man the One Whom the Young Lady Has Wedded-The Ceremony Occurring in Milwankee-How the Ata tachment Grew and the Story of Its Culminntion.

ment of Miss Paulina Fuller with young Autiery created a decided sensation in Chicago. Social circles were astounded to day and the affair was talked of every-wiere. It was a thunderbolt all round. Ever since Miss Fuller returned to Chicago the joung people have seen each other fre-quently, but always as quietly and unob-

No suspicion was excited, and yesterday afternoon when the two met in Garther's candy store, on State street, and took a prophet of old to have devised that they were eloping.

But they got to the depot safely, boarded married. The pair removed to the Plaukin-ton House this morning, where they will reain for a few days before returning to this city.

They were a little frightened when they discovered that Mr. Aubery, sr., was also in Milwaukee, but they managed easily to keep out of sight until the knot had been this morning of the wedding.

The dispatch came to his mother from the bidegroom himself and nearly floored the good woman. She had left the gas burning for her boy last night, and was little surprised to find it still burning this morning and her son's room empty. The family residence is 3801 Vincenne avenue. When a reporter called there to-Composure in any degree. She was de-lighted; she was grieved; she approved the match; she disapproved it; she felt sure the young people loved each other and wo 11 be happy, but she knew Chief Jus-tice Faller would be fearfully angry.

"Besides," she sa'd, "there was no occa sion for an elopement and I never dreamed of such a thing. My son went away yesterday morning and I supposed he was going to his office. He did't return at night and this morning his telegram came announcing

"Of course I knew they loved each other, out I never thought they contemplated pearriage right away, and I don't believe it was a premeditated affair. I think they met, the idea occurred to them, and then come back. Of course, they take up their residence with us for the time being.

Miss Fuller was a guest of Mrs. H. C. Smith of 3611 Grand Boulevard, and also visited Mrs. Ogden at 46 Thirty-fifth street. She was perticularly "chummy" with the Ogden was the only person in Chicago who knew of the elopement, but she dodged of the marriage. Mrs. Smith said: "Miss Fuller left my home yesterday to visit a friend named Mrs. May on the North Side She didn't return at dinner time, and I thought she had been pressed to stay through the evening, and that her hostes would send her home in her carriage.

didn't come. I was shocked, of course and am deeply grieved, because it will look but I really knew nothing whatever about ft, and was in no way to blame. I never

"Miss Fuller had tickets to return to Washington to-morrow, and I suppose the idea of her departure caused the lovers to agree upon their precipitate step. I don't know what to think of it all, I am sure. know that they saw each other occasion ally, but didn't suppose there was anything

Mr. Aubery, sr., when informed of his son's action, was much surprised, but didn't do snything explosive. He took the matter very good-naturedly, and seemed to know very little of what the young ma was liable to do, and couldn't for the life of him tell whether the pair would return here or take a honeymoon trip to the centre of the earth; and he didn't werry much

Anbery was interviewed in Milwaukee this morning. He was as happy as a newly-married young man ought to be, and said he had done it and was glad of it. H. said it was only Mrs. Fuller who opposed Justice long ago, but that Mrs. Fuller was

He said he would stay in Milwaukee a day or two and then return to Chicago, where he would pursue the even tenor of his honeymoon, just like an ordinary man. He was too eestatic for anything and didn't care to stay away from his new-made tride for more than a few moments at a

The marriage ecremony is thus described: When the 6:30 train arrived last evening a patier car by a well-knit young man with and was escorted to a carriage by her com

No room was assigned to them, and the lady and her companion spent the early evening in the hotel parlor. About 9 o'clock the young man came down stairs and informed the clerk that he wanted a Justice of the Peace. Inside of fifteen minutes Justice Gregory arrived. There was a hurried consultation and then the young man brought the blushing young justice, who is a very prosaic old gentleknow that the bride was the daughter of the Chief Justice of the United States, and neither did any of those who were present outside of the contracting parties.

When the ceremony was concluded the old justice called for witnesses, and two young men were captured in the billiardroom and ran to affix their signatures to the necessary document. The knot was firmly and legally spliced. A SHREWD BRIDEGROOM.

Young Antery hired two detectives to shadow him and his afflanced until they left Chicago. His object was to learn if any one was following them and to prevent the young lady being rescued.

It was early in the afternoon when he met Miss Fuller and a Chicago candy-store was the trysting-place. They boarded a Milwankee and St. Paul train at the Union Depot at 3:20 o'clock and came direct to this city. The correspondent called on Jus-tice Gregory early this morning and greatly astonished that gentleman by informin him that he had married a daughter of the Chief Justice of the United States.

On looking at the marriage certificate however, he was more surprised that the fact had not struck him before, for there before his eyes were the full names of the Chief Justice and his wife, as well as those of the groom's father and mother. Young Mr. Aubery proposes to remain in Milwaukee a few days.

The First Intelligence Here. The announcement of the runaway marriage of Miss Paulina Fuller, daughter of the Chief Justice, to J. Matt. Aubery, jr., of Chicago, at Milwaukee last evening, came to Washington this morning in the following dispatch:

CHICAGO, March 20.—A News special from Milwaukee says: Miss Paulina Fuller, the fifth daughter of Chief Justice Fuller, was married here last night at the Kirby House by a justice of the peace. The groom was J. Matt. Aubery, jr., of Chieago, and it was a runaway match. The couple arrived in the city on the 6:30 St. Paul train and were driven to the Kirby House. There was no difficulty in securing the services of a justice, and shortly after 9 o'clock the ceremony was performed.

Mrs. Aubery, nee Paulina Fuller, is 19 years of age, highly educated and remarkably handsome. J. Matt. Aubery, jr., is 23 years old. He is the son of the general Western agent of the Merchants' D spatch Fast Freight line, J. M. Aubery, sr., and tied, which, however, was somewhat has been a resident of Chicago since 1876. hastened by his presence there. Young Aubery's family was notified by telegraph of the bride and groom began about three years ago, when Justice Fuller resided on Lake avenue, a short distance from the home of young Aubery.

The young people met often and their acquaintance soon ripened into love.

This became apparent to the Fullers shortly before they moved to Washington, and they strongly opposed it. Since about January 1, Miss Fuller has been in Chicago, visiting friends, and it seems the young people had no great difficulty in arranging and carrying out their plans.

Miss Paulina is a strikingly handsome girl, with dark hair and very dark blue eyes, and a complexion of almost tropic warmth and richness. Her figure is exquisitely rounded, and she is fascinatingly graceful in all her movements. Peculiar in some respects, possibly, she was a bright and interesting girl to those who knew her well, and there was that about her which betokened will, if not willfulness. Her taste in dress went back to the time of the Empire, and those who saw her in the handsome parlors at "Belmout" will refrom an old French painting. She left Washington to visit friends in Chicago jus after the first of January, and it was he intention to have entered society next winter with her sister, Miss Mildred, who graduates at Wells College in June.

Aubery has never been in Washington since the family of the Chief Justice arrived in the city, but it is not unlikely that he corresponded with the young lady, without the knowledge of her parents. Miss Paulina had not yet appeared in society here and her quiet, almost reserved and preoccupied demeanor, consequently attracted the attention of the few, but it s understood that her family appreciated, to some degree at least, the extent of her infatuation and were troubled because of it. That it was as great as is now developed, was not, however, comprehended, else it would have been allowed to visit Chicago unguarded. Thus amid any number of her own age may have been sentimental enough to aid and advise, communication laughs at lawyers, too.

The little god that laughs at locksmith

And the little chubby-legged god's West ern representative has played a very pretty trick on the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

One of the prettiest of the bouquet o Fuller girls is Paulina, the third youngest While the Fullers lived in Chicago, Miss Paulius had a very devoted admirer in a young man who lived near their home. He was J. Matt Aubery, a son of a railroad official. He was hardly the sort of a young man a father would fancy for a son-in-law, and Chief Justice Fuller told his pretty daughter so.

daughter so.
But Miss Paulina was really quite deeply

But Miss Paulina was really quite deeply infatuated with her young man, and her father's rebuke made but little impression on her girlish heart.

Mr. Fuller might convince a jury that a murderer was really an angel, and that instead of being hung he should receive a vote of thanks from the jury, or he might convince a judge that black was white, but his eloquent logic hadn't a ghost of a show when pitted against this young man's blonde mustache in the court where pretty Paulina's heart sat in judgment.

Mr. Fuller frowned as blackly as so elever a gentleman could on young Aubery, and Miss Paulina smiled as sweetly as only such a sweet girl could.

Things were in this shape when the Chicago lawyer was selected Chief Justice. The lovers saw each other now and then Papa Fuller stormed perhaps now and then and a few people talked and expressed their disapproval of Miss Paulina's choice.

For everybody said that young Aubery was her inferior intellectually, socially and in fact every way. He was not only a poor young man for he had only a clerkship out. was nor more way. He was not only a poor young man, for he had only a clerkship out in Hyde Park somewhere, but the gossips said he was none to good. He was never called a bright man intellectually or particularly clever in any way. But nothing icularly clover in any way. But nothing ould down his lustre to Miss Paulina' could down his listre to Miss Panlina's eyes and she continued to see him whenever she could.

When Mr. Fuller was called to this city the family thought that a change of scene would win Miss Paulina's mind from her Chicago lover and that she would forget him before she had been in this city long.

But the Fullers had not been here a month before Miss Paulina expressed her desire to go back to Chicago on a visit. The oftener-she was refused permission the more earnest she became in her demands, and finally, one morning, she stamped her pretty foot ou the shiny inlaid floor of the breakfast-room out at Belmont and said she would go back to Chicago, whether or no.

room out at Belmont and said she would go back to Chicago, whether or no.

She told the Chief Justice up and down that she would go, and that if he didn't send her she would go without being sent. There were two horns to the dilemma that confronted the Chief Justice. He could send his pretty daughter to a convent for contempt of court or he could let her go to Chicago. With entire good sense he packed her off to Chicago to visit friends of the family, who lived near the Fullers' former home.

ARRIVAL AT CHICAGO.

Miss Paulina got to Chicago just in time for young Aubery to pay her a New Year's call, because all the clerks in the office had a holiday New Year's day. Another call call, because all the clerks in the office had a holiday New Year's day. Another call followed soon, and another, and a series. There was no papa or mamma within a quarter of the width of the continent to protest and no sisters any nearer to poke fun. Some time last January the daughter of the Chief Justice left her friends, with whom she had been visiting, and went to visit another family who lived in the neighborhood of Thirty-ninth street, and near Hyde Park, in which the office where Mr. Aubery worked is located.

The lovers saw a great deal of each other after Miss Paulina moved out nearer to where her lover was employed. Either the friends whom Miss Paulina was visiting didn't know of the disfavor with which the Fullers regarded the young man's suit, or they sympathized with the young people. Anyway, young Aubery was a very frequent visitor. One time not long ago some friend of Aubery's who knew of his unpopularity with Miss Paulina's family asked him if they knew that he continued to call on her.

Aubery told the inquirers with considerable feeling that he didn't know anything at all about it and cared even less, and moreover that it was nobody's business how much attention he paid to the young lady, because they were married. This, though, in the light of their marriage in Milwaukee last evening, is supposed to have been a "bluff" at a too inquisitive, questioner, or perhaps it was but a piece of bragadocio on the young man's part.

A CHANGE IN AUBERY.

Since Miss Fuller went back to Chicago

A CHANGE IN AUBERY. Since Miss Fuller went back to Chicago there has been a change in young Aubery He has seemed to be saving his salary, none too large, and consequently the harder to save. He has spent almost his entire time while not at his "demnition's grind" in the office with Miss Paulina. When his fellow-clerks joked him about saving his money to get married, he asked: "Can you blame me?"

But it was all a surprise when the news came this morning. No one expected anything of the sort. It was really a social benth, and, used as Chicagoans are to bombs, it created a sensation. But a few of the people in Chicago society knew anything at all of Miss Paulina's romance. Some few knew of her attachment for Aulery; less knew that it was frowned on by the young lady's family, and still less of her presence in Chicago at the time. Nearly everybody thought she was still in Chicago.

THE FAMILY IN IGNORANCE.

Chief Justice Fuller started for the Su-

Chief Justice Fuller started for the Su-preme Court shortly before 10 o'clock this preme Court shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Feller had some shopping to co, and she took him down with her in the carriage. He had a little business to do down on F street, and he stopped on the way and attended to it. Then Mrs. Fuller took him on up to the Capitol and then went about her shopping.

Mrs. Aubery had not telegraphed the fact of her marriage before her parents left. When a Critto reporter went out to Belmont this morning and told Miss Maud Fuller what the Chicago Nees said about her sister's marriage, she was surprised, and said: "I, don't believe it."

"I don't believe Paulina would do anything like that," Miss Maud continued. "Anyway if she intended to get married she would have told us so. I think it is just a newspaper story. Yes. I know Mr. Aubery, and I know he used to admire Paulina. But he was only an acquaintance of the family's he was only an acquaintance of the family's and I don't think he would run away with my sister anyway."

my sister anyway."
"How old is your sister Paulina?"
"I can't remember how old she is," an wered Miss Maud, wrinkling her forchead swered Miss Maud, wrinkling her forchead.

"There are seven of us,you know. Mildred, she is awy at school; she is next to Paulina. Then there's one in Europe; that's Minrie. Paulina is next to the youngest—no, second from the youngest. She is the fifth, but I can't remember how old she is. How long has she been away? She went to Chicago the last day of December to visit some friends, and she is still there. She has been visiting three different families of friends of ours back there and we did not expect her back for some time. expect her back for some time.

HER SISTER INCREDULOUS, her to-day, and there has been no telegram received here for my father. Of course, received here for my father. Of course, Paulina would let us know if she hadbeen married, and I don't believe it at all. Perhaps Paulina used to be a little fond of Mr. Aubery, but that was all over, I think, long ago. I never knew of their being engaged, and Paulina and Mr. Aubery were just friends and have been for years. "Paulina was very much attached to Chicago and this winter she went back there on a visit, and I suppose this talk about an elopement, perhaps, was caused by that. I shall not believe that Paulina is married until I shall hear it from her herself."

Paulina is one of the five half-sisters of the Misses Grace and Maude, the Chief Justice's two eldest daughters.

Mrs. Fuller did not return from her shop-

Mrs. Fuller did not return from her shor ping until late this afternoon, and so she didn't know of her pretty daughter's mar-riage in time to say anything to the afternoon papers.

It is quite possible, too, that young Mrs.
Aubery didn't see fit to tell her folks anything about her marriage after what they have done to separate her from her husband, and that she thinks they will read about it in the newspapers soon enough anyway.

anyway.

Friends of the family in Chicago tele-graphed the news to friends in this city and it got to be quite generally talked of this afternoon. It was the topic of most of the conversations in West End parlors and everybody seemed disposed to sympathize with Mrs. Fuller, who cannot sympathize with Mrs. Fuller, who cannot but be annoyed by her daughter's action. Whether she will be forgiven nobody knows, but Mr. Fuller has never been known as a family tyrant any more than he has as anything else disagreeable and however little his new son-in-law is to his taste his daughter will doubtless be forgiven.

Building Permits. The following building permits were isied to-day: sued to-day:

Henry Berger, two-story frame, Sargent road, county, to cost $1,250.

J. H. Lane, four-story brick, at 1707 Nincteenth street, to cost $12,000.
John Myers, two-story brick at 425 Franklin street, to cost $1,100.

J. S. Poole, two-story brick at 1518 R street, to cost $9,000. Gilbert & Casilear, ten two-story frames.

on Warren street, near Prospect avenue, to cost $5,000.

Dr. A. Walker, one two-story frame, on Blair Road, country, to cost $300.

N. T. Haller, four three-story brick dwellings, 2153 to 2155 L street, and 1101 and 1103 New Hampshire avenue northwest, to cost $30,000.

Ernest Bebrens, one-story frame on Frankford street, between Burns and Duncan street. n Warren street, near Prospect avenue, to

The President's Dog Dash.

A dog tag was issued on March 13 for a log owned by President Harrison. The name of the dog is Dash, and he is de-scribed as a black-and-tan collie, and his home the Executive Mansion. The Presi-dent was assessed 67 cents for Dash's tag, because of his prior residence outside of the District previous to the 4th of March. The number of the tag is 3,448.

MORE REWARDS.

NOMINATIONS SENT TO THE SEN-ATE TO-DAY.

Fred. Grant to be Minister to Austria-Hungary John C. New Named for Consul_General at London-A Number of Army Appointments-New Pestmasters.

The President sent to the Senate to-day the following nominations: Frederick D. Grant of New York, to be Minister to Austria-Hungary.

John C. New of Indiana, to be Consul-Paul Fricke of Texas, to be Marshal for the Western District of Texas. Seligman Brothers, at London, England, to be special fiscal agents of the Navy Department at London. Passed Assistant Engineer David Jones. to be a Chief Engineer.

Passed Assistant Engineer Jas. H. Chasmar, to be a Chief Engineer.

To be Passed Assistant Engineers: Assist ant Engineers Reymond T. Hall and Ira N.

To be Lleutenants-Junior Grade: Lieu tenants Frank F. Fletcher, Alexander Sharp and Harry H. Hosley: To be Lieutenants—Junior Grade: Ensigns P. J. Werlich, Simon Cook, John H.

Edward Rhodes Stitt of South Carolina to be an Assistant Surgeon in the Navy. Nominations Confirmed.

The Senate to-day confirmed the followng nominations: John W. Mason of West Virginia, to be Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Charles E. Mitchell of Connecticut, to be Charles E. Mitchell of Connecticut, to be Commissioner of Patents. William L. Dunlap, Marshal for the Dis-trict of Indians. John S. Burton, Marshal for the Northern District of Mississippi. W. Budd Deacon to be Marshal for the District of New Jersey. J. Granville Leech, to be Appraiser of Merchandise in the District of Philadel-phia.

Merchandise in the District of Philadelphia.

John P. Ward to be Appraiser of Merchandise in the District of Williamette, Ore., and the following postmasters:
Joseph C. Bartlett, Lake City, Minn.;
James V. Campbell, Norman, Minn.; Robert S. Bowman, Columbia, Pa.

The Vice-Tresident laid before the Senate to-daya communication from the Governor of Rhode Island announcing the resignation of Senator Chaee. It was laid on the table. The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of executive business.

While the Senate was in secret session a message was received saying there would message was received saying there would be some nominations, and the session was prolonged to await the arrival of the Presi-dent's messenger. At 2 o'clock the Senate adjourned until 1 o'clock to-morrow. Here-after 1 o'clock will be the daily hour of after 1 o'clock will be the daily hour of meeting.

In the secret session of the Senate to-day Mr. Butler offered a series of resolutions declaring that the tenure of office of President pro temporo does not expire at the meeting of Congress after a recess, the Vice-President having taken the chair; the presence of the Vice-President does not have the effect to vacate the office of President pro tempore, and that the office of President pro tempore shall be held at the pleasure of the Senate. This went over until to-morrow under objection.

THE DISTRICT GOVERNMENT. Mr. Thomas W. Smith has extended his ease of the District buildings to the Comnissioners, at the same annual rental, $3,600. The Commissioners endeavored to have this amount increased, but failed. Building permits have been granted to William T. Burch to erect a brick and stone dwelling at 1301 Thirty-first street, to cost $15,000; H. B. Munn, brick dwelling, 1330 R street, to cost $7,500; Mrs. C. Harris, frame dwelling, Princeton street, Mount Pleasant, $1,000.

Mount Pleasant, $1,000.

The Commissioners have accepted the custody of the $26,000 left in their and their successors' control by the Executive Committee of Inaugural Ceremonies of March 4, 1889, to be kept intact as the "Centennial Inaugural Relief Fund." to be invested by the board in good real estate securities in the District, at the best obtainable rate of interest, and to be held and used for the following purpose: The annual interest thereon to be expended, in the discretion of said Commissioners, in the purchase of fuel and clothing for the poor of the District of Columbia.

The Brightwood Railway. The Commissioners, in reply to a lette of Mr. A. A. Thomas, representing the Brightwood Railway Company, relative to tion, says: "Relative to your letter of request of the Th ultimo, that the Brightwood Railway Company be allowed to use the rail mentioned in said letter, I am directed to reply that the Commissioners approve for said road to be laid under such regulations, as to details, as the Commissioners shall approve, a side bearing rail similar to the specimen of rail known as section B, No. 108, in the Johnson Steel Street Rail Company's catalogue, which was recently exhibited to you by Captain Symons."

The following licenses were approved to lay: John L. Vogt, 475 L street northwest retail; Fred. R. Reh, 1997 D street north west, wholesale. The applications of William J. McGill, 220 New Jersey avenue northwest, and Patrick A. Kane, 1002 Jefferson street northwest, were disapproved

It is learned that the Committee on For eign Relations, after consideration of the case, asked that the nomination of Eugene Schuyler for Assistant Secretary of State be withdrawn, coupling the request, it is understood, with an intimation that other understood, with an initination that otherwise it would be reported adversely. This action was taken on account of an assault made by Mr. Schuyler, in his book entitled "American Diplomacy," upon the late Eithu B. Washburne, reflecting upon his official conduct while Secretary of State, together with reflections upon the Administration of President Grant and the Senate, and also, it is said, on account of charges affecting Mr. Schuyler's personal conduct in Europe.

The following local exhibits will among the American display at the Paris among the American display at the Paris Expesifion: The Hurst Reinforced Cart-ridge and Arms Company; Allen & Ginter, tobacco; Herman Holerith, mechanical apparatus for compiling statistics; Con-nolly Bros., telegraphic devices, telephones, etc.; Francis J. Patten, telegraphic devices, telephones; Lanston Type Machine Com-pany, type machines; American Grapho-phone Company.

Telegraphic communication with the United States has been established by cable Trited States has been teaching of years from Santiago & Cuba to Hayti and San Domingo, thence to the Island of Curacoa, thence to Lagrayara and Caracas, Venezuela, where connection is made with the government land lines for places in the in-

The Australian Twang. The rising generation in Australia is de voice that promises to become as distinctive as is the Yankee twang in this country.

CAUGHT IN THE CORRIDORS.

Ten representative colored citizens of White House this morning awaiting an in-terview with the President. In the party were Fred. Douglass, W. H. A. Wormley, John H. Brocks, Dr. C. B. Purvis, M. M. Holland, J. Harry Smith, Lemnel Balley, Collins Consor, Dr. Furman Sheld and W. H. Smith. Two of the delegation, Messrs. Douglass and Librarian Smith of the House Douglass and Librarian Smith of the House of Representatives, would like to succeed Recorder Trotter, but the matter was not broached by the President's visitors. The object of the call was to set before the President the needs of the colored people of the District, and incidentally to boom the candidacy of Hon. George C. Hazleton for Commissioner in place of Hon. W. B. Webb.

She was a "poor lone widder" who de sired to see the President just for a minute, on a matter of urgent importance. Doorkeeper Loeffler is overwhelmed daily with such applicants, but after considerable persuasion he took the inevitable pasteboard into the executive office. Evidently the widder had been there before and did not expect a favorable there before and did not expect a favorable response to her application. Consequently, when Loeffler returned to his post he found the female visitor missing, but conspicuous on his desk was a card bearing the legend, "Mrs.—has rooms for rent at No.—, Sixteenth street." This free advertisement was closely scanned by a number of patient officers, who quickly saw that the street in question is in a direct line with the White House; in fact, a straight line would pierce the centre of the White House. It was another illustration of the enterprising character of the average Washington boardinghouse keeper.

An active Republican politician from Minneapolis, Minn., will, in future, hold down the chair of the Appointment Clerk of the Treasury Department. In Timothy E. Byrnes, Senator Washburn had a vigi-E. Byrnes, Senator Washburn had a vigi-lant lieutenant and untiring worker in the campaign, which resulted in his being chosen as the successor of Senator Sabin at Washington. When the result of the Legislature's ballot was announced, de-claring Washburn elected, Byrnes hurried to the nearest telegraph office and wired the doxology to Charley Johnson, reading elerk of the Senate, and a resident of Minneapolis.

No time is being lost by employes of the Departments in making themselves solid with the new Administration, as a recent incident at the Postoffice Department will show. It was past 2 o'clock in the af-ternoon and the Department was closed to all save officials and others who had busi-ness with heads of bureaus. A belated newspaper representative was stopped by the watchman at the main door and the in-the watchman at the main door and the in-telligence was conveyed that the public was not privileged to enter after-certain hours. "But I represent the Baltimore Sun," numbled the new arrival. "Mr. Wanamaker's son," replied the watchman; "pardon me, sir. Walk right upstairs to your father." Although mis-understood in declaring his indentity the Sun man moved up the marble steps with alacrity.

The United States Government, with Judge J. B. Hoge as counsel, has filed a bill in equity against Leopold Luchs, whom the authorities wish to have enjoined from the authorities wish to have enjoined from occupying a triangular piece of ground at the intersection of N street, First street and Canal street southwest.

The case, as presented by the Government, is something of a squatter sovereignty affair. The space is a public reservation, but last year Mr. Luchs saw it, took a fancy to it, fenced it in, built a frame house on it, and opened a grocery store.

The property fronts 185 feet on First street and 71 feet on N street. The Government wants the house and the fence both removed.

croment wants the house and the fence both removed.

Queer Occurrence in Court.

A remarkable scene was enacted in the court at Colembus, Ohio, during the trial of a suit for damages—the outcome of a progression. suit for dama little disagreement that lead to blows. One of the priheipals took the stand, and, while telling of the injuries he received, remarked: "Why, I can pull out many of my teeth, but some of them come out harder than others," and reaching far back in his mouth he produced a large double masti-exter and held it up at arm's length. With on my back teeth on that side any more.

A Georgia physician writes to the Contitotion of Atlanta that the solution used in the hand grenades now offered so extenstaking twenty pounds of common salt, ten pounds of sal ammoniae (muriate of amonia, to be had of any druggist), and dissolving in seven gallons of water. When dissolved it can be bottled and kept in each room in the house. In ease of a fire one or two bottles should be thrown with force into the burning place, hard enough to break them, and the fire will certainly be

A Find of Gold. One of the workmen digging for the foundations of the new City Hall in San Francisco turned up five $20 gold pieces. lying separate and a short distance from each other, and several feet below the surface of the sand. None bore date later than 1862. It is thought that the money was buried there by a thief. A few days before this find another workman shoveled up a $10 gold piece several feet away from where the others were found.

In the case of Kate Van Auken against Jane L. Adams and others, Judge Cox today made a decree referring the matter to the Auditor, to state an account between the plaintiff and George W. Adams, de-ceased, in which the defendant is to be charged with her share of the estate of her father. Chauncey Adams, and credited with her proper share of expenses in the estate.

Clerical errors in appropriation bills are oming to light. Mr. Randall juscried un mendment to the paragraph appropriating buildings, so as to take the making of the contracts away from Chief Clerk Youmans, of the Treasury, and make the work depend upon the lowest bidding. But the amend-ment was omitted in enrollment. Failure to enroll an amendment defeated the senate in the mode of defraying expenses of the tunnel presidentica committee. tunnel investigation committee.

"A great many people nowadays, I notice, live to be over 100 years old. Here's an account of a man at Kokomo who has just died at 165.23 Chewed tobacco and drank whichy all

. He didn't do either." "No. He didn't do either,
"He wasn't any itel years old then, you ever hear of a man living to that who hadn't undermined his constituand shortened his life with whisky tobacco."—[Chicago Herald.

Class-Muddy river. Teacher-Correct. Into what stream does Teacher-What is the meaning of the

HE HAS HIS INNINGS AT THE

Large Delegation Appear Before the President in Favor of Mr. Hazleton for Commissioner-Perry Carson's Supporters Put in a Word

The colored man and brother of the Capital was out in full force to-day at the White House. More than half the people who congregated, like bees around the bung-hole of a sugar barrel, about the door of Secretary Halford's room were colored. They swarmed in every nick and cranny of the halls and passages and kept the em-the halls and passages and kept the employes busy answering questions.

THE COLORED MAN

One of the first delegations to have an interview with the President to-day was one headed by Frederick Douglass. They urged the claims of George H. Hazleton for District Commissioner. Fred. Douglass and Dr. Purvis both speke. Mr. Harrison listened attentively to what they had to say, and requested them to put the reasons why Mr. Hazleton should be appointed in writing and file them with Secretary Halford.

A delegation, consisting of about ten writing and file them with Secretary Halford.

A delegation, consisting of about ten colored ministers, headed by the Rev. Mr. Carhill, presented the name of Perry Carson to be Recorder of Deeds. The President also requested them to put the application in writing, and they filed a voluminous package of documents with the private secretary.

Among the callers to-day were the Hon. A. H. Heber, Hon. S. N. Vandevest, Hon. C. C. Tincher, D. Hewes of San Francisco, Charles C. Holden, James A. Geary, member of the National Republican Committee from Maryland; John R. Tolbert, who wants to be the Marshal of South Carolina; G. C. Chandler of Mississippi, a nephew of the Santor; N. W. Cuney, a member of the National - Republican Committee from Texas; S. M. Newman, pastor of the First Congregational Church of this city, and William T. Fitzgerald, an old soldier of General Harrison's regiment.

The Senators cailing to-day were Plumb, Dolph, Mitchell, Jones, Stewart, Hale, Spooner, Evarts; Ransom, Pascoe, Higgins and Farwell. The members who had interviews with the President were Davidson, Dorsey, Wade, Burrows, Allen, Grosvenor, Cannon and Peters.

The public reception to-day was largely attended. The President shook the hands of nearly five hundred people. As usual the great majority of the callers were attended. The President shook the hands of nearly five hundred people. As usual the great majority of the callers were ladies.

Senator Hiscock called to-day accompanied by three friends from New York. He is one of the most frequent callers at the White House. Platt also called to-day and it is rumored that these two members of the "Big Four" are trying to have Depew appointed minister to the Court of St. James.

A delegation of Spell Binders, headed by A delegation of Spell Binders, headed by Colonel O'Beirne of New York, called this afternoon and were warmly greeted. The Secretary of State was with the President about half an hour this morning. Secretary Rusk also called.

Mr. Justice Miller also had an audience Mr. Justice Miler also had an audience with the President.

Russel Harrison, who has just returned from New York was kept almost as busy as his father; this morning receiving a lot of friends from Indiana.

LATE DEPARTMENT NEWS,

Comptroller Durham, in response to in-quiries of the District Commissioners, has decided that in the lastDistrict appropria-tion bill the sums of money provided for the purchase of schol sites are immediately available.

available.

In the matter of the purchase of school sites, Judge Durham has decided that the Commissioners cannot purchase the sites through an agent, nor pay a commission for News From Hayti. Consul Goutier, at Cape Haytien, has rewith Rear-Admiral Gherardi, arrived there from Key West on Pebruary 21 and was still in port on the 8th instant. The Con-sul reports that no blockading vessel has been seen in those waters since January 17 The West Point Purchase. The Secretary of War has ordered Quarermaster-General Holabird, Colonel Henry I. Abbott and Inspector-General Hughes to go to West Point to oversee the purchase of the Kinsley estate, adjacent to the Academy grounds.

The State Department has been informed by the U. S. Consul-General at Shaughai sands are starving and perishing from ex-Department Notes. The bond offerings to-day were: $500 coupon 4s at 120; $5,000 coupon 44s at 103; $42,000 registered 44s at 108.

Mr. Bell has taken charge of the office of uperintendent of the Rallway Mail Ser-The Government receipts to-day were

From internal revenue, $222,004.46; customs, $770,480.51. The Dolphin has arrived at Shanghai.

Dispute in a Stable. Two or three days ago George Walker the boss of a stable in South Washington, discharged a driver named George Brown

Last night Brown returned and picked quarrel. "Get me my pistol," shouted Walker, Jack Flag ran to the stable office and got the pistol and Walker fired it off "to scare" Brown. Walker was arrested and locked up in the South Washington Station-House, and in the Pollee Court this afternoon District Attorney Joe Shillington appeared for him. He was held in $200 bonds for the grand jury.

Lenbon, March 20—3 p. m.—The stock market is quiet. Paris, 1 p. m.—Rio Tinto is quoted at 271 francs 25 centimes; 2 p. m.—Rio Tinto, 273 francs 75 centimes.

New York, March 40.—Messrs Demott & Durant, stock brokers doing business at No. 19 New street, have just announce suspension on the stock exchange. Navigation Opens Early.

HOLLAND, MICH., March 20 .- The fee in the Black Lake was all driven out Monday night and navigation is open two weeks Appointed a Constable. The Court in General Term to-day ap sointed John H. Stewart a constable. Sir Thomas Gladstone Dead.

LONDON, March 20 .- Sir Thomas Glad-Mrs. Hayseed (at big city hotel)—They is awfully attentive at this tavern, ain't

Mr. Hayseed-Yes, siree; they're bound to give us the worth of our money, I guess, Them errand boys has been in a dozen times in the last half hour to see if we wanted anything. What are you workin' at there, Marler!

Mrs. Hayseed—I've been tryin' fer the the last half bour to see what this ere button in the wall is for. TO BE REMOVED.

The New Jersey Steel and Iron Con-pany's Works at Trenton. THESTON, N. J., March 20.—It is rumored that the New Jersey Steel and Iron Company contemplates the removal of their extensive works from this city to Chattanooga, Tenn. Abram S. Hewitt and Edward S. Cooper, the proprietors, and Joseph Stokes, the superintendent of the works, have just returned from an inspecting tour through the South. They believe they can secure cheaper freight rates for fuel and material in the South, and thus more economically operate their works. The best coal can be delivered in Chattanooga for $1.25 a ton, while to deliver it to the Trenton works now costs $5,25 a ton. As the New Jersey Company use about $8,000 tons a year, this is an important, item. The company employs about 1,300 men who are tem. The company employs about 1,300 nes, who are pald about $1,000,000 a year

THE NEW DISTRICT JUDGE.

WICKITA, KAN., March 20.-The boomers having fled to the woods upon the appearance of Lieutenant Carson and his soldiers scouts were sent to scour the country and hunt them down, but to use no unnecessary hunt them down, but to use no unnecessary violence. A large party of boomers was found gathered around the ruins of the house, having been destroyed in a former raid. This party threatened the soldiers, but were soon overpowered, although two men named Anderson and Adams made a desperate resistance, and both were roughly hundled by the soldiers. Adams finally excaped in the bushes. The others were all brought into the camp and are being held for further orders. or further orders.

Electric Cabs for Washington NEW YORK, March 20.-Officers of the Electric Accumulator Company in this city say that the decision of Judge Cox in New York yesterday gives them practical con-trol of the manufacture of secondary batteries or accumulators. The company has delayed pushing its business until this de-cision was obtained, but it is understood to has been withdrawn. Mr. Ives was anxious to secure the appointment of a committee to prove that a commercial war would be, if not beneficial, at least not injurious to Canada. This challenge to the United States has been averted largely, it is believed, owing to the belief of the Premier

The Stockholders Robbed. OMARA, NEB., March 20 .- An evening paper prints the statement that the Union Pacific management has for years been robbing the stockholders of the road to benefit practice. A reporter who visited the shops is alleged to have found men cugaged in removing the Union Pacific brand on ten locomotives and replacing it with the brand of the Oregon shortline. It is charged that over 600 cars have been disposed of in this

Mr. Reid's Intentions. NEW YORK, March 20.-Late last night Mr. Whitelaw Reid, in speaking of his nomination as Minister of France, said: The natural presumption is that a nomi nee for such an office will accept. I shall certainly arrange business so as to do so. If I could not, it would surely be discourteous in me to amounce this to any-body else before I said it to the President, who did me the honor to make the nomina-English Emigration. LONDON, March 20.-Mr. Gosehen ourced in the House of Commons last night that the Government intended to ap-point a committee to fully investigate the matter of emigration. The House dis-cussed the supply bill until 4 o'clock this mounting.

morning.

P. B. Nawron, Springfield, Ill., and H. W. ombs, New York, are at Chamberlin's. R. CLARKE, Kansas City, Mo., and W.D. Slake, New York, are at the Howard House

Commons to-day Mr. Matthews, the Home J. F. DETTMAN, New York; E. P. Olimstead Rochester, N. Y., and W. D. Richards Springfield, Ill., are at the Randall. Arax, Kricova, Maryland; Frank G. Wood, Cileago; Joha H. Simends, Texas, and E. A. Detrich, Baltimore, are at the Harris House, A. D. Lawarser Juwerr and Miss Jewett and Mrs. General Horses Porter, New York, and J. J. White, Brooklyn, N. Y. are at the

F. L. Buandey, Cincinnati: Harper Graf-ton, Kansas City, Mo., Giorge W. Pepper, Jr. New York, and B. F. Field, Chicago, are at the St. James.

of the Metropolitan.

Joseph D. Wellos and John T. Wilson,
Pitisburg George Campbelle, Cohoes, N. Y.;
Thomas W. Fifth and wife, St. Paul, Minn, and Hon. A. S. Draper, Albany, N. Y., are at the Higgs House,

iand, Pa., are at the National.

Dr. G. W. Fryzpathick, Kansas City, Mo.: W. L. Disten, Uniney, Ill.; A. C. Tiebenor and J. B. Gleasen. New York; R. S. Goodman and wife, Rochester, N. Y., and Fronk Lyman, Brooklyn, N. Y., are at Willard. Brooklyn, N. v., are at williard's.

S. W. Bradford, Tacoma, W. T.; C. M.
Finch, Fortsmouth, Onlo; W. W. Murray,
Tennessee; Hon. D. L. Russell, North Carolina;
C. J. Creswell, Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. J. A. Brown, Beston, and John Duke, New York, are at the Ehhitt.

NARROW ESCAPES

A Red-Hot Place for a White-Many of the Occupants of the Houses Have to Run for Their Lives-Great Excitement, But No Fatali-

NEW YORK, March 20,-This morning, bortly before 2 o'clock, the row of small frame houses comprising nearly the whols block between Thirty-eighth and Thirtyway, were almost entirely swept away fire. The fire was a red-hot one for a time, and many of the colored people living in the shanties had narrow escapes but so far no loss of life has been reported. Great excitement prevailed in the neigh-borhood, and the guests at the Hotel Normandie and the other hotels near by were for a time somewhat alarmed. The less will be about $29,000. Freeman Duna of engine 3 had a leg broken. The prop-erty was recently purchased by Edward Harrieston.

MR. WALKER'S SUCCESSOR.

The Appointment of Professor Hadley of Yale College Considered. A special dispatch from New Haven says: The advisability of appointing Professor Arthur T. Hadley of Yale, a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, to suceccel A. F. Walker, resigned, has been under consideration by the Administration at Washington and a day or two ago one of the leading managers of the Republican party in New Haven, acting, doubtless, under instructions, called upon the Professor to ascertain whether at the last elec-tion be voted for Mr. Harrison or Mr.

fessor to ascertain whether at the last election he voted for Mr. Harrison or Mr. Cleveland.

The Professor answered that he voted for Cleveland. Mr. Walker was a Republican. According to the Interstate Commerce act, whenever there is a vacancy in the Board, the candidate must come from the same political party as that to which the retiring member belongs. It is understood that Mr. Hadley was a Republican until the nomination of Bisine in 1884, but it is generally believed that his vote against Harrison will be an insurmountable obstacle to his appointment to succeed Mr. Walker, although he has been strongly indorsed by the press of New England. Neither he nor the gentleman who called upon him has since licand a word as to the Administration's conclusions, and this is regarded as indicating that Yale is not to be honored by this appointment.

MR. FISH SURPRISED. He Learned From the Morning Papers

The removal of Assessor Fish was a com plete surprise to that gentleman, who had no intimation whatever of it, and was first informed by his wife who read the notice of removal from the morning papers. The Assessor was busy this morning packing up his effects preparatory to turning over his office to Mr. Williams. He says that he delayed pushing its business until this decision was obtained, but it is understood to be ready at once to put electric street-cars in service and demonstrate the cheapness of the new force. It is also said that a cab company has been formed to run electric cabs over the asphalt pavements of Washington, and that it will have its cabs in service in a few months.

Canada's Relations.

Chicago, March 5.—A Tribune specia from Ottawa, Ont., says: "The unwise resolution of Mr. Ives on the subject of Canada's relations with the United States has been withdrawn. Mr. Ives was anxious JUSTICE GRAY. The Announcement That He Is Engaged to Miss Jennie Matthews.

The New York Sun of this morning con tained the following interesting Justice Gray of the Supreme Court, who firmed bachelors in Washington, surprised his associates to-day by amounting his engagement to Miss Jennis Matthews, the second daughter of Justice Matthews, Justice Gray is about 54 years of age, and Justice Gray is about 54 years of age, and is a man of massive physique, black eyes and hair and clean-shaven face, with the exception of small side whiskers. Miss Matthews is a young lady of rare accomplishments, and is very popular in Washington society. Owing to the illness of Justice Matthews, the day for the wedding has not been set, but it is understood that. If he continues to improve the event will not be long delayed.

Congressman Townshend's Successor. SPRINGFIELD, I.L., March 20.-The contest for the nomination for Congress to succeed the Hon. R. W. Townshend is practically made up of both political par-ties. A letter received in the city vester-day says that the Hon. W. A. J. Sparks will be a candidate before the Democratic convention, so that it will have six aspi-rants, the other five being Representative Merritt, General Anderson, Senator Strat-tan, General Robert Williams and the Hon. Quincy E. Browning.

New York, March 20 .- A fire in the bakery of Leo Hanck, No. 2153 Third avenue, early this morning caused a loss of about $1,000. Hermann Lenck, aged 17, was smothered. He was asleep in the basement of the building at the time, and before he could be rescued he was suffo-cated by the deuse smoke. His body was recovered.

Secretary, announced that Mr. Parnell's counsel would be allowed the same freedom of access to convicts in Irish prisons as was allowed the counsel for the Times in work-ing up their case for presentation, before the Parnell Commission.

LONDON, March 20 .- In the House of car and paint shops of the Central Railroad of New Jersey situated at Ashley were

The Butler-Strong Case. In the case of Butler against Strong, the Cook, given notice of a motion to dissolve the injunction restraining the collection of the award. Butler has also made answer in the case of Kirk against Strong and A free fight was started in an Italian set-lement, down near the navy-yard, last right, in which Annie Buddington smashed Annie Episcope on the head with a baseball but and about killed her. The doctor who

A German Bark Lost. LONDON, March 20 .- Advices from Valparaiso state that the German bark Johanne Auguste, from Moodyville for Montevideo, has been lost, and her crew landed at Val-

Local Weather Indications. Rain, followed by fair weather; slightly ooler; northerly winds.